KICKBOXING ONTARIO

Preamble

Sport Martial Arts has attained significant popularity in Canada. Point Sparring, continuous point sparring, forms, and weapons forms are all practiced in clubs across the country. There are also many martial arts competitions within specific groups such as Karate, Kung Fu, Tae Kwon Do, as well as competitions that involved a diversity of participant styles. The rules for competitions vary across jurisdictions, organizing groups and even between competitions. There is an incredible range of health, safety and fair play practices at these events.

There have always been initiatives to standardize rules and competition requirements. Challenges to developing uniform policies and procedures have included a diversity of international bodies, disseminating these across various stakeholders, and a culture that lacks collaboration. Furthermore the sector has not had a regulatory structure in place to ensure industry standards, monitor events and ensure compliance.

With the change in government policy regarding all combative competitions the regulatory structure has now been assigned to Provincial Sporting Organizations (PSO). Kickboxing Ontario is the PSO for all kickboxing disciplines including the Tatami disciplines of Point Sparring, Light Contact, Kick Light, and Forms/Weapons, as well as the ring disciplines of Full Contact, Low Kick and K1.

Working with WAKO, the International Federation (IF) recognized by SPORTACCORD, and the National Sporting Organization (NSO), Kickboxing Ontario has established a regulatory framework for Tatami competitions that will go in effect July 1st 2017. The following document lays out the requirements for all Tatami competitions.

The requirements of WAKO, as laid out in their rules documents, will always be adhered to by the PSO unless alternative policies are established. Alternative policies must be approved by the PSO Board and be justified based on legal, ethical or administrative requirements in the jurisdiction.

The PSO sanctioning framework is based on the principles of Excellence, Fair Play and Safety.

The following document provides policies specific to sanctioning competitions for Tatami Sports. Kickboxing Ontario's Policy manual details all of the specific policies for all aspects of competitions.
